On a winters' night, March 19th 1947, a group of passengers become stranded at a remote railway station. This is the story of what took place that night.

As good humour fades and tempers rise towards the station master's warnings to leave at once, a distant locomotive is heard thundering towards our helpless heroes.

Join us for this dramatic comedy thriller by Arnold Ridley, and return to an age of style, wit, and romance.

The Ghost Train is about to return, only this time it's even bigger, louder and altogether more terrifying to behold.
