

LET ME LOVE YOU

Words & Music by Stash Kirkbride

Verse 1: Won't you let me love you very gently?
Won't you let me love you from within?
And if I promise to be gentle,
Say that you'll give in, to me.
Let me love you very gently now
For here I go again.

CHORUS: Slowly and surely, softly and gently,
Falling in love once again (Can't you feel my beating heart?)
Slowly and surely, softly and gently,
Falling in love once again.

Verse 2: As I feel you touch and pull be closer,
I close my eyes so none can see.
All the tears run down my face now.
I'm just so happy that it's me,
Holding you so tight.
Darling, let me love you once again tonight,
For here I go again

CHORUS: Slowly and surely, softly and gently,
Falling in love once again (Can't you feel my beating heart?)
Slowly and surely, softly and gently,
Falling in love once again.
I can't believe my eyes, it's you.

INSTRUMENTAL

LET ME LOVE YOU © 1988 Produced by Stash Kirkbride & Andrew Claige, with flute by Hamish Barker.