

FROM THE HEART

Words & Music by James Kirkbride

I can't see you now, but I know you're here, in my heart and in my soul.
When the stars are out and the moon is clear,
You come to me and keep me warm.
When I hold you in the dream time,
The way you look makes me believe, you make me breathe.

Endless years alone came to an end, walking in the park that night.
You must have read the thoughts that I tried to send,
And let me come into your life. It's like an eagle flying solo,
The power of a silent word.
The voice of love is heard.

Look at you, my darling, look at me,
Breathing like we are one kind.
Cause nothing matters about the past, you see.
The future's there for us to find.
It's like a sparkle in the river, or our child with us today.
My love is here to stay.

Say you will, say you will, say that you'll marry me,
For the rest of time unknown.
Cause nothing feels the way like it's gonna be,
Holding you when I come home.
It's like a fire burning in me,
I know you feel the same way too.

Baby, baby, baby, baby, I love you.
Only you. Forever you.
I love you.
