

ONE MORE TIME

Words & Music by Stash Kirkbride

Verse 1: Here I am, alone again, swimming against the tide.
Here I am, alone again, and you ain't by my side.
How could you be, so cruel to me?

Wasn't it me who stood by you, through the thick and thin?
Wasn't it you, who knew what to do, to make the world give in?
So how could you be, so cruel to me?

Bridge: If I could only turn back time to when we were in love,
I wouldn't even let the winds of heaven visit your face too roughly.

For it's not every day I meet someone, who's cared for me like you have done,
I think the world of you.

CHORUS: I think the world of you, I love you still.
I think the world of you, I love you still.
If I knew you all my life, I'd love you still.
You know I think the world of you, I love you still.

VR2: I guess every man has to live a bit to truly understand.
Well, I've been around the world and I've seen the promised land.

So come with me and trust in me.
Come with me and trust in me.
Come with me and trust in me.
Just one more time.
For old times' sake.

Bridge: If I could only turn back time to when we were in love,
I wouldn't even let the winds of heaven visit your face too roughly.
For it's not every day I meet someone who's cared for me like you have done.

I think the world of you. I love you still.
I think the world of you, I love you still.
If I knew you all my life, I'd love you still.
You know I think the world of you, I love you still.

Ride Out: Just one more time.
For old times' sake. Come with me.
Just one more time.

Just one more time, for old times' sake.
Trust in me, just one more time.
Give me the reason, just give me the sign.
Let me believe. You could still be mine. Yeah.

Just one more time.
For old times' sake.
Come with me.
Just one more time.

For old times' sake.
Come with me.
Just one more time. Alright.
